The COVID-19 vaccine is free of charge to people living in the United States. However, your vaccination provider may bill your insurance for administering the vaccine. No one can be denied a vaccine if they are unable to pay the cost.

SCAM ALERT: If anyone asks you to pay for access to a vaccine, you can bet it is a SCAM. Do not share your personal or financial information if someone calls, texts, or emails you promising access to the vaccine for an extra fee.

Herd Immunity

You may have heard this term while in conversation with others or in the media. Herd immunity is when more than half of the population of a community is immune to a specific disease, in this case the Coronavirus. If enough people are resistant to the virus, it has nowhere to go and can't spread. Now, not every individual may be immune, but the group has protection because there are fewer high-risk people within the "group". So, we want herd immunity to help infection rates drop so the virus becomes inactive.

Message for the Public

To move closer towards opening more business and schools, it is important to continue safe behaviors, even if you have received the vaccine. Each member of our community should continue to practice the following:

- Stay home as much as possible, especially if you are sick or have tested positive for COVID-19.
- Wear a mask whenever you are around others, even if you are outside.
- Watch your distance from others. Avoid gatherings.
- Wash your hands with soap and water often or use hand sanitizer when you cannot wash.
- Get tested if you have any symptoms or have been exposed to someone with COVID-19.
- Get vaccinated when it is your turn.

There is great news! Governor Newsom's stimulus agreement just passed and will provide $600 for disabled and older adults who receive SSI/SSP. So the big question is, when will these stimulus packages be sent out? Qualifying Californians should receive their payments after they file their 2020 taxes. So make sure you file your taxes early!

A Matter of Balance - Virtual Classroom!

There are many different conditions that contribute to falling. These different conditions are known as risk factors. These risk factors can be changed or modified to help reduce the risk of falling. Some of the most common risk factors are:

- Lower body weakness
- Not getting enough Vitamin D
- Difficulties with walking and balance
- Side effects of your medication. Even some over-the-counter medicines can affect balance and how steady you are on your feet.
- Vision problems
- Foot pain or poor footwear
- Home hazards such as poor lighting, clutter or throw rugs.

The Healthy Aging Association is now offering A Matter of Balance Managing Concerns About Falls Program from the comfort of your own home via Zoom! This 9-week course will be offered once a week for two hours. During the class, participants will learn to view falls and fear of falling as controllable and set realistic goals for increasing activity. Participants will also find ways to change their environment to reduce fall risk factors and learn simple exercises to increase strength and balance. If you are interested in joining one of our upcoming classes, please contact our office at 209-525-4670 or email healthy.aging2000@gmail.com

Let's Stay Moving

Staying physically active has many benefits to overall health and well-being. Being physically active not only helps older adults maintain the ability to live independently and reduce the risk of falling, but exercise can reduce symptoms of anxiety and depression while improving an individual's mood. With improved strength, balance and flexibility older adults have the ability to continue doing the activities they enjoy as they age.

If you find yourself sitting throughout the day while watching television or doing a hobby you enjoy, try these lower body exercises to keep you limber, loose and moving:

- 1. March for 30! How to do it: Sitting or standing in good posture, move your legs as if you were walking, march in place leisurely for 30 seconds.
- 2. Raise the Toes How to do it: Sitting in good posture towards the edge of the chair with feet hip width apart. Roll onto the heels of both of your feet so your toes are pointing up toward the ceiling. Hold for 3 seconds and return to feet flat on the floor. Repeat 5 11 more times.

3. Roll onto Your Toes (Heel Raises) – How to do it: Sitting in your chair in good posture with feet hip width apart. Roll onto the toes of both of your feet so your heels come off the ground. Hold for 3 seconds and return to feet flat on the floor. Repeat 5 - 11 more times.
